Vice Admiral Felix Johnson (Ret.)

Dear Felix:

As I told you in my letter of 13 February, I would let you know a little later on about [redacted] who is interested in returning to the Agency.

One of our senior officers, [redacted] had lunch recently with [redacted] and advised him that he did not have anything available in his area, but that he would look into the possibilities of employment for him on one of our staffs. It is hoped that something can be worked out and, should a requirement exist which would be of interest to a man of his experience and stature, we will promptly get in touch with him.

Your thoughtfulness in writing to me about [redacted] is indeed appreciated.

With kindest personal regards.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
Director
